

TOBACCO EMBARGO

Will Immediately Affect the Farmers of This District

FORCIBLE LETTER FROM
HON. W. T. FOWLER

Hon. W. T. Fowler, the Republican candidate for Congress from this District, is the author of the following forcible letter dealing with the embargo placed on tobacco by England:

To the Tobacco Growers of the Dark Tobacco District:—

The now infamous "Order in Council" which made the Dark Tobacco District near bankrupt last year has been re enacted. The effect of this Order is to put an embargo on all shipments of dark tobacco to Germany or Austria after August 31.
This will include what is termed Scandinavian Europe, Denmark, Holland, Belgium and Switzerland—also Sweden and Norway. These countries under normal conditions purchase at least 100,000,000 pounds of our dark tobacco. Scandinavian Europe takes her requirements largely through Bremen. Germany produces a large portion of her consumption. So does Austria and Hungary. For two years, or since the war began, this production has been greatly curtailed. Their stocks of tobacco are exhausted. Germany and Austria, therefore, on a free, open market would take one-third of our large crop of tobacco at a high figure.
England has a low, selfish purpose in cutting off shipments of tobacco to Germany and Austria. Tobacco is not an article of contraband, because it is not a food or war necessity. Every dollar that Germany or Austria puts into tobacco lowers her financial efficiency just this much.
England is furnishing the finances for Italy and France. Italy and France's production of tobacco is practically cut off on account of belligerent conditions. According to a government report France will need and require out of this crop double her usual purchase. Italy for her own consumption and for the need of the Region governments will require a large increase over her average purchase.
England is underwriting the finances of both countries. If market in the "Black Patch" is allowed to open with the active, aggressive competition which the German and Austrian buyers will afford, England with its acute financial eye sees that the French-Italian purchase will cost from forty to sixty millions more money than if competition is throttled. The black list on tobacco, therefore, is not a war measure.
It's a shrewd financial policy, conceived by a cold, calculating financier. It is purely English in all its characteristics. The plan in all its features is premeditated to take sixty millions out of the pockets of the dark tobacco growers and put it in the British coffers; and to hide the infamy of this damnable burglary by proclaiming it to be a war measure.

The Government at Washington can give relief. Shall the tobacco grower be exploited and his sweat money taken away under the very eyes of Congress without a protest or a demand to "stop thief?" Shall Kentucky and Tennessee farmers be thus victimized and required to bear the burdens of a European War?
The recent Merchant Black List promulgated by the English Government has been modified, so that same is no longer objectionable.
This was the result of a vigorous protest from Washington, and a threat of retaliatory measures. The embargo on tobacco shipments to Germany and Austria can be removed in the same way. If our Government will only say to England that this embargo must be lifted or the Government of the United States will be forced to prohibit all or certain grain shipments on and after August 31st, then no one doubts the result. If Washington wavers or vacillates, the embargo will remain until the war ends.

In the condition that confronts us the Federal Government is the only power that can step between and divert a financial disaster. Delegations of strong men from Mayfield, Paducah, Murray, Hopkinsville, Clarksville, Springfield, Guthrie, Elkton, Russellville, Madisonville and Henderson are leaving today for Washington for a conference with Senators and Representatives on Monday. Delegates are being sent from Virginia and North Carolina.
Nothing will be left undone, or [unsaid] to emphasize the importance of the situation. We believe that Congress and the President will take action, and that relief will come in this way. If Congress stops to debate and adjournment should find the embargo intact, the only alternative remaining to the tobacco grower, as occurs to me now, is for the growers themselves to adopt retaliatory measures by refusing to sell England or her allies a pound of tobacco until she lifts the embargo.
If I can find time I shall report from Washington the results of the conference.

Yours for success,
W. T. FOWLER.

INDEPENDENCE OF AMERICA

Two years have passed since our regular supply of hundreds of articles which had flowed in an unbroken stream from Europe was stopped. In a few particulars we have produced as good, or nearly as good, an article as we formerly imported. But we are short on countless things, some of which are very essential.
Many dyes are not to be had for a king's ransom, and linens and fine leather and a thousand other articles, in the origin of which we never gave a thought, ar-daily growing scarcer or the supply is entirely exhausted. We have edged in on a few things, but have we come up to the requirements of our unshipped needs to any considerable extent, as so many confidently boast we would? That we can supply ourselves with pretty much all the necessities previously imported, is doubtless true. That we have not, and are not, is largely due to labor conditions which, in the absence of suitable protective tariffs, deter our manufacturers from investing the large sums required to erect plants, with the constant danger that the war may end suddenly, imports be resumed, and accumulated stocks on the other side be dumped in large quantities at reduced prices. Take the case of the dyes for example: A German manufacturer can command the services of a highly efficient and experienced chemist one who has perhaps taught chemistry for years in a technical school, at a salary of $8,000 a year. Here the manufacturer, for that sum, could scarcely secure a second-year college student with a smattering of theory and no practical experience whatever. If we are to do these things for ourselves we will be obliged to restore some protection tariff, whatever may be our position on protection and free trade as a general proposition.

ber Popular Mechanics Magazine.

ST. BERNARD COAL SAVES HENDERSON

$2,871.07 in the Course of One Year

M. R. A. Power, of Henderson, has the following to say of the economy of using coal for heating in his home furnished by the St. Bernard Mining Co.
The coal bill at the city power house with St. Bernard coal for the year ending August, 1916, was $3,022, while the coal bill for the year ending 1915 with a different coal was $8,893.07.
The best test at the light plant shows that it takes an average of 4.89 pounds of the St. Bernard coal to make one kilowatt, while it takes 6.80 pounds of other coal to do the same work.
Both the St. Bernard and other coal was tested under the same conditions and with the new heater.

AN APPEAL TO THE SOUTHERN PEOPLE

An appeal is being made through columns of papers of the South to behalf of St. John monument, which is being erected at St. John, Kentucky, in honor of the Confederate dead. The monument is being made by M.
H. Board in his studio in Chicago and when finished will cost $50-000, $3,000 of which is yet to be collected by October 1, in order that the unveiling may take place in mid-October. We ask especially sons of the veterans and all others interested in the "lost cause," to assist us by contributing as much as $1.00 each. The United Daughters of the Confederate have collected all funds up to this date and this is the first appeal made to the public.

Several monuments have been erected at St. John in behalf of the Northern settlers, this being the first for the Confederate soldiers. I am sure you all desire a part in this beautiful tribute of love to our fathers and heroes and will assist the committee in raising these funds.

Your contributions which are promptly acknowledged, may be sent to M. R. W. McKimney,

FIRST SCHOOL TEACHER'S CERTIFI- GATE OF RECORD

Miss Mollie Weatherly, Now Mrs T. W. Gardiner, Got in 1879

d of County Schools, has recently been making permanent record of all dates found in the old books and papers unearthed in his office, pertaining to county school teacher's certificates issued to them and the grades made in examinations in each subject. All this is now recorded in books arranged especially for the future. An interesting item of this record is the first teacher's certificate of which the office gives any history. It was issued August 9th, 1879, to Miss Mollie Weatherly, Madisonville, Ky., a first class certificate good for four years and the general average given to her on examinations was the unbeaten figure of 100. Miss Weatherly is now and has been for some years Mrs. T. W. Gar-diner, wife of Dr. T. W. Gardiner, skilled physician with years of practice in Madisonville and Hopkins county, superintendent of the Western Kentucky Asylum for two separate terms and later a leading member of the State Board of Control.

When This Girl Proposed, She Said

"And I have tried to make it clear to you in every way I knew.
I've asked you to this house, times without number. I've played tennis with you, and walked and talked with you, and ridden your rounds with you in your bumpy old milk wagon.
I've simply thrown myself at your head, day after day. But you—you wouldn't understand.
You wouldn't look at me. Nor listen. You mooned about, and moped your ridiculous heart out.
Because you thought I was such a blind, silly fool, I couldn't look past your poverty and your ill-luck, and see how splendid you really are. Because you thought I was such a stuck-up simpleton I'd not want to marry you, because you were a milkman. When I'd chase the cows for you if you wanted me to."—September Woman's Home Companion.

Make Home Attractive.

There is no panacea that will cure the yearning for city life evidenced by the country boys and girls of today, but there are certain conditions which, if established, will add materially to the attractiveness of life in the country, and should therefore prevent them from flocking to the cities merely to avoid life on the farm.

BEE'S MAMMOTH CAVE PARTY

Left Saturday Morning on 52 for River Trip

WILL RETURN TOMORROW NIGHT

The Bee's Green River Mammoth Cave Party left last Saturday morning on 52 for Evansville in their special coach.

About 30 were in the party leaving here. These were joined by several more at Evansville and other points making a total in the party of about 50.

This is one of the nicest trips the Bee has ever given, and is a fitting ending to the red-hot sizzling contests closed last Wednesday night.

The party will arrive tomorrow night from Evansville on 93.

Print Paper Prices

The Federal Trade Commission is meeting with a good deal of difficulty in investigating the advanced prices and shortage of news print paper. A statement issued by the Commission says that some publishers hesitate answering the Commission's inquiries, fearing that their supplies may be cut off. The Agricultural Department says that investigations made by the Forest Service indicate that is plenty of raw material from which to manufacture paper. The development of new paper mills has been held back by the uncertainty regarding markets, since it is thought that with the close of the war manufacturers of ammunition will withdraw as purchasers of many products now used by them. Consequently new paper manufacturers are not keen to run the risk of decreased demands.

Is Your Son a Pampered Fledgling?

There is a story in the September American Magazine in which one character says to another:

"I can tell you what you could have done, more easily," the Bird House Man replied. "You brought him up a pampered fledgling. You condoned his weaknesses and you put no iron into him. You never trained his will. A terrific attack of repentance, a Salvation Army conversion, is what he really needs.
The liquor has got to be boiled out of him somehow, by a doctor who knows about such matters. He needs work, too, real physical work, and the right companions. Perhaps on a rough out West, or an Arctic expedition—"

An Easy Mark.

Lessing, the celebrated German poet, was remarkable for a frequent absence of mind. Having missed money at different times, without being able to discover who took it, he determined to put the honesty of his servants to the test and left a handful of gold on the table. "Of course, you counted it?" said one of his friends. "Counted it!" said Lessing, rather embarrassed; "no, I forgot that."

Where It Costs.

"The average salary in our railroad shops and stores," says a young man, "is $15 a week. Our boys say it costs $3 of that to keep company with a girl.
The movies, the lake, the jitneys, boat hire, an occasional show—it eats up the dime. And the boys say it must be done—what we need in this town is a get-together club with the cost of courting cut down."—Woman's Home

Hon. William T. Fowler, of Christian County, as Republican candidate for Congress from the Second Congressional District, subject to the action of the voters at the gen-

Washing and Automobiling.

A speaker before the convention of the National Educational association in New York asserted that if the men had to do the washing for a week there would be more washing machines than automobiles bought. This would also be quite as true if the women who do the washing had anything to say on the subject.—Washington Herald.

Just the Thing for Diarrhoea "About two years ago I had a severe attack of diarrhoea which lasted over a week," writes W. C.

Jones, Buford, N. D. "I became so weak that I could not stand up right. A druggist recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The first dose relieved me and within two days I was as well as ever." Many druggists recommend this remedy because they know that it is reliable.
Obtainable everywhere.

Couldn't Take Any Chances.

"What are you doing with the lady's slipper in your pocket? Looking for a Cinderella?" "Now, my wife wanted some stockings to match. I couldn't cut a section out of the slipper, so I had to bring the pesky thing along."

A Doctor's Remedy for Coughs

As a cure for coughs and colds Dr.
Bell's Pine Tar Honey combines these remedies in just the right proportion to do the most good for summer coughs and colds. A trial will prove the value of this splendid cough medicine. Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey soothes the irritation, stops your cough, kills the cold germ and does you a world of good. A 25c bottle will more than convince you—it will stop your cough. At all

HOW MRS. BEAN MET THE CRISIS

Carried Safely Through Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Nashville, Tenn.—"When I was going through the Change of Life I had a tumor as large as a child's head. The doctor said it was three years coming and gave me medicine for it until I was called away from the city for some time. Of course I could not go to him then, so my sister in law told me that she thought Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would cure it. It helped both the Change of Life and the tumor and when I got home I did not need the doctor.
I took the Pinkham remedies until the tumor was gone, the doctor said, and I have not felt it since. I tell every one how I was cured. If this letter will help others you are welcome to use it." —Mrs. E. H. BEAN, 525 Joseph Avenue, Nashville, Tenn.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a pure remedy containing the extractive properties of good old fashioned roots and herbs, meets the needs of woman's system at this critical period of her life. Try it.

case which puzzles you, write to the

Mr. Wilson says his mind is progres-it is taking. It is just as likely to be progressing backward as forward.—

President Wilson is now anxious to one better and declare that we never had any troops in Mexico to withdraw?

It was stated that the president should be some inspiration for ringing sentiments on naval preparedness.

DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Caution, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Belle Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good. I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 30 years of wonderful success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. WORK THAT TELLS
The Kind Earlington Readers Appreciate

To thoroughly know the virtues of a medicine you must investigate its work. Doan's Kidney Pills stand this test, and plenty of proof exists right here in this locality. People who testified years ago to relief from backache, kidney and urinary disorders, now give confirmed testimony—declare the results have lasted. Can any Earlington sufferer longer doubt the evidence?

H. T. Howard, Madisonville, Ky., says: "I was annoyed by attacks of back pain and pains across my back for fully two years. I was told that there was something the matter with my kidneys and I bought Doan's Kidney Pills. They were the first medicine to ever give me permanent benefit."

Questionnaire No. 1—Will All the Wilson Notes Be at His Notification? How Did Fool Free Trade Hit Your Line of Business Just Before the Battles Began?—When the War Bells Die Will You Weep at the Funeral?

The question habit grows. You may ask a question of any one. Why should the dear old phillie escape? Here are a few from the New York Sun for the man in the street:

Do you approve of the rivers and harbors act?

Do you want four years more of watchful waiting, with the national guardsmen undergoing military training in tropical climate in midsummer?

Do you hold that the duty of the United States is to serve humely and let its own citizens be killed and outraged?

Do you feel proud of notes with nothing behind them?

What do you think of the Vere Cruz adventure?

Would you like to have been an American soldier at Carrizal?

Do you love Carrizal?

Do you believe in a financial regime conducted largely in the interest of one section of the country?

Do you desire to cut the Philippine losses in order that Japan may gobble them?

Do you want four more years of Daniels?

Do you approve of wrecking the diplomatic service to provide jobs for deserving Democrats?

Are you in favor of inflation?

Do you believe in preparedness for a flood of cheap European wares as soon as peace comes?

Have you noticed the significant increase of imports in the past year, despite the war?

How did fool free trade hit your line of business before August, 1914?

And your friends?

Were you all cheered up by the Underwood tariff bill?

Do you think the doubling of the income tax is fair while millions' worth of competitive imports come in free?

Where are you going to be when the war babies die and business slips back to the cold, hard normal level? Can you conceive of any possible good to you or to the country from another presidential term like the present one?

Will you perpetuate sectionalism, greed, ignorance, stupidity—general ineptitude in congress?

DENIES ASSAILING MR. HUGHES

Percy Mackaye Writes He Never Saw "Authors' Letter" With His Name Appended.

Percy Mackaye, playwright, whose name appeared as one of the signers of the so-called "authors' letter," published in the newspapers last week, knew nothing about the matter until after publication, according to a statement given out yesterday at Republican national headquarters. The letter attacked Charles E. Hughes' criticism of President Wilson as "non-constructive" and propounded ten questions for Mr. Hughes to answer. In a letter to Mr. Hughes Mr. Mackaye said:

"My attention has just been called to an open letter addressed to you, printed in the New York Herald of August 2, signed by a number of professional writers, among whom my name is included. I beg to send you this word, to say that I did not sign the letter and never saw or heard of the letter until it was shown to me in print."

It was stated at Republican headquarters that neither Mr. Hughes nor any of his staff had seen the letter except as it appeared in the newspapers.

POINTS FROM HUGHES' SPEECHES

+ Reckless extravagance of the Democrats is an insult to the American people.

+ Deserving Democrats! Deserving in heaven's name of what?

+ We have a splendid system of government, on paper, but we want that system vitalized.

+ The pork barrel bill brings a blush of shame to the cheeks of every American.

+ I am here because I have a vision of what America needs.

+ An idle American will always feel uncomfortable.

+ America will not hold her own by high sounding phrases.

+ Are we not a nation great enough to have sufficient foresight to protect our borders in a sensible fashion by means of sensible preparedness?

+ If we state our rights in a firm and determined manner it should carry conviction. There should be no vacillation in connection with that assertion.

HUGHES AND FAIRBANKS.

EDITORIAL PARAGRAPHS.
Two futile invasions of Mexico and six separate and distinct policies on the question of permitting arms and ammunition to be sent into that country are included in the performance of the Wilson administration in its dealings with our southern neighbors in less than three years. It is this characteristic instability of the government that makes people want a change.

Bryan reiterates that he is out for Wilson. "Hark from the tomb a doleful sound."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The stopping of Governor Hughes' auto by a Canadian soldier will not matter, inasmuch as the band wagon's progress is not to be interrupted.

Democrats who harbored hopes that Josephus would catch the virus from the Bryan and Garrison resignations are still nursing their disappointment. Nothing remains for them but to resign to a realization that Josephus will not resign.

"Inadequate" aptly characterizes the Wilson administration, but almost any synonym of unsatisfactory will do.

When Charles E. Hughes said: "The dealings of the administration with Mexico constitute a confused chapter of blunders," he gave an explicit characterization of the Wilson administration's policy in one sentence.

Just as it is now obstinately shutting its eyes to the need of industrial preparedness, for three years the Wilson administration refused to see the need of adequate military preparedness. With war on our southern border it was content to rely on a regular army that could only muster 40,000 available men and refused to continue the established policy of building up our navy. When the time came for action the country had not sufficient troops to police the border, and this force has been supplemented by a trifle more than one-third the war strength of the national guard. If the national administration had had the ability to interpret the signs of the time military preparedness would have been well under way instead of barely begun.

Charles E. Hughes, the Republican candidate, recognizes an important fact that Woodrow Wilson, the Democratic president, appears to have overlooked—that the United States is big enough to help Mexico out of the condition of anarchy in which that country is plunged and, by securing order in Mexico, insure peace on our border.

The insuperable handicap of the Democratic party in this campaign is its record.

If the Democratic national administration had left on the statute books in 1904 the federal corrupt practices act placed there by the Republicans there would be no occasion for the present administration's campaign publicity measure, which at best is a very poor substitute for the law repealed.

President Wilson's campaign managers are entitled to all the comfort they can get out of calling the roll of Progressives who are going to vote for him. It would be an endless task to call the roll of Progressives who are not going to vote for him.

For every reason that can be advanced why Progressives should vote for Wilson ten can be advanced why they should vote for Hughes, and the beauty of it is that they know the reasons without having to be told.

The Wilson administration went into Mexico to punish Villa for his outrage on American soil. The only punishment inflicted has been on American soldiers, who were shot down at Carrizal by order of First Chief Carranza.

"Franklin Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, sees a strong trend for Wilson in Maine."—News Dispatch. Who can blame a man who for three years has been assistant to Josephus Daniels for "seeing things?"

Even Woodrow Wilson could not save the infamous Clarke amendment to the Philippines bill. He lost the ablest member of his cabinet, Secretary Garrison, because of his advocacy of the policy of acutle, but even the sacrifice of Garrison could not save it.

WILSON'S POLICIES BLOWN UP.
Charles Evans Hughes did have explosives with him when his motorcar was searched by a Canadian soldier, but they were under the candidate's hat. Mr. Hughes will set them off on his western tour, and some of Mr. Wilson's policies will be blown up—New York Sun.

The 1916 meet of the National Fox Hunters' Association will be held at Columbia November 20. It was announced by officials attending the annual executive meeting at Lexington. Almost 100 fox hunters from all parts of the country attended.

Resolutions opposing any plan to grant without arbitration the demand of railroad trainmen for an eight-hour day as a basis for compensation adopted at a special meeting of the board of directors of the Louisville board of trade, have been forwarded to President Wilson.

The Maysville Cotton Mills has received by express a package of aniline dye that was part of the cargo of the submarine Derschlau. The proprietors say the price is almost nominal, and another shipment is expected, this making enough to tide the mills over the coming winter.

President Wilson last Friday accepted for the United States the birthplace of Abraham Lincoln at Hodgenville, Ky., authorized by a recent act of Congress. Formal ceremonies transferring the property to the government will be held at Hodgenville September 4, with the President as the chief speaker.

Hydrochloric acid used in cleaning surface stone on the Tyler Hotel at Louisville, was carelessly spilled on a rope that held a scaffold at the fifth story on which Andrew Erny and Fred Reichel were working. The scaffold slowly ate through the rope. The scaffold fell. Reichel was almost instantly killed and Erny was painfully injured.

Fees aggregating $187,000 for the administration and settlement of the estate of L. P. Ewald, the iron magnate, were allowed in Louisville by Judge Kirby. This sum was a reduction of $51,000 from fees originally allowed, totalling $241,000, by Eustace L. Williams, Master Commissioner of the Circuit Court.

The Lexington Board of Education has adopted the following rule: "No teacher shall be elected who has not had a physical examination by the School Medical Inspector or physician who is a member of the Fayette Medical Society, and who does not thereby hold a certificate of good health and physical vigor from such examining physician."

Formal protest to Congress against the re-establishment of the British black list on tobacco to Germany and her allies, on the grounds that this would mean a loss of millions of dollars in the sale of the crop now ripening to the dark tobacco growers of Kentucky, Tennessee and other states, has been made by prominent farmers and business men throughout the state.

The teacher of the best moonlight school in Kentucky this fall and winter will be given a trip to Washington and taken over the city there by Congressman J. W. Field and others, and will have the pleasure of meeting President Wilson. This should be incentive to strive for the best moonlight schools, as the trip will certainly be worth while.

A letter received in Lexington by C. N. Manning, president of the Lexington Onchla Club, containing a draft for $10,000, the gift of the late Col. Robert A. Turrey, millionaire cattle ranchman, of Fruitville, Mo., as a donation to the fund now being raised for the Institute in Clay County, which several months ago suffered the loss of its main dormitory by fire.

An urgent plea for the prevention of tuberculosis was voiced by Gov. Stanley in an address to delegates for the seventh tuberculosis sanitarium district in Covington. "The Tuberculosis Commission," said the governor, "is neither Democratic nor Republican. I want it to do its best to stamp out this disease which is claiming the lives of one-seventh of the people of the country."

Senator John K. Shields, of Tennessee; Senator E. D. Smith, of South Carolina; Representative Cordell Hull, of Carthage, Tenn., and Representative Charles P. Coady, of Maryland, as well as the governors of eight states in the Appalachian mountain range are expected in Lexington on the opening day of the Southern Appalachian Good Roads association, whose sessions will be held September 5 to 8.

Harry C. Taylor, Mayor of Versailles, is touring in Northern Michigan. When he crossed the Ohio River at Covington it was the first time in his life that Versailles Mayor has ever been outside the limits of the state of Kentucky. He has never ridden in a sleeping car and until two years ago he held the unique record of never having spent a night outside of his own home.

With a bumper crop of tobacco nearly ready for the knife, a splendid crop of corn in prospect and farm work in general promising to be most active during the fall, the farmers in many sections are confronted with what appears to be a serious shortage in the labor supply. For several years past the labor problem has been increasing in gravity, but this year a combination of circumstances makes it take on fresh import.

Proof that Kentucky National Guard will carry but a very short time longer at Ft. Thomas was furnished, it is said, Sunday, when F. L. Polidexter, in charge of the railroad arrangements for moving the brigade to the border, received a letter from George Hodges, Secretary of a War Department bureau in charge of troop transportation, asking what arrangements had been made for moving the guard "on the shortest possible notice."

Archbishop John Lancaster Spalding, who had been in failing health for the last two weeks, died in Peoria, Ill. He had been ill for a number of years, having suffered a paralytic stroke in 1906. Archbishop Spalding was a native of Lebanon, Ky., and after being educated at Louisville he returned to Kentucky and was in charge of the cathedral in Louisville from 1865 to 1869.

S. V. Robinson, a prominent farmer of Cobb, near Princeton, is owner of a dog that has the unique distinction of making a regular hand at catching worms on Mr. Robinson's tobacco. The dog goes to the tobacco field regularly with the laborers and takes a row of tobacco and searches diligently for the worms. When one is found he catches it between his nose and foot and rolling it from the tobacco leaf, kills it.

Preparations for President Wilson's trip from Louisville to Hodgenville September 4, when he publicly will accept the Lincoln Memorial Farm, include several special trains for the use of the public and the President's bodyguard. The first of these will carry forty mounted police, as well as several patrolmen, who will act as a special bodyguard to the President. Special trains will leave Louisville every 15 minutes between 7 and 3 o'clock.

Memoranda received at brigade headquarters of the Kentucky National Guard at Ft. Thomas provide for the discharge of enlisted men who declare their intention of returning to school. According to declarations only fifty men, a remarkably small percentage, officers say, will be lost to the Kentucky brigade through this new foe to peace strength. The brigade has been weakened considerably by the provision permitting men with dependent families to withdraw.

Governor Stanley, of Kentucky, who reviewed the National Guard at Ft. Thomas, Ky., said that the improvement which has taken place in the men since his visit six weeks ago is almost unbelievable. Addressing the troops, the Governor said: "I await the call to the border or to arms at any time with confidence. I thank God I am the Chief Executive of a State that boasts of such men as face me now. For the future the valor of our army is the sole buttress against the wrath of our preparing foes."

The Insurance Committee of the Louisville Board of Trade is considering offering its services as intermediary between the State Fire Insurance Board and the Kentucky Actuarial Bureau, in an attempt to put an end to the present deadlock. The board has taken the position that no increase in rates can be made, except where there is no increase in hazard, but the bureau maintains that, inasmuch as the loss ratio in Kentucky is nearly excessive, it is impossible to make decreases unless rates on risks which are too low can be raised.

CARTER, in New York Evening Sun

"I'VE HAD ENOUGH OF IT!"

FARMERS SIZE UP HUGHES AS "PRETTY GOOD FELLOW"

Fargo, N. D.—Charles E. Hughes campaigned for the first time among the sturdy farmers of the eastern part of North Dakota and left behind him the reputation of being a "pretty good fellow."

He was forced to undergo a critical scrutiny before the verdict was given. Mr. Hughes preached the doctrine of government efficiency, Americanism, tariff as protection to the farmers and preparedness, and in each instance won applause, despite the fact that the farmers are not the strongest advocates of the last named issue.

They cheered for preparedness the loudest when Mr. Hughes told them that it meant no militarism, but ability to uphold national honor.

As they cheered for Mr. Hughes one broad shouldered old farmer said, "It's because there's something about him that makes you believe he's telling the truth."

ATTRACTS BUSINESS MEN.

Mr. Hughes has not tried to scare anybody, but has merely portrayed the errors of the present administration and set forth certain principles on which the affairs of the country should be managed in the future.

There is a political logic in his portrayal, the culmination of which in the mind of the voter is expressed by the frequent remark:

"He is the kind of man we want to steer us through."

This has been said by many a business man. The qualities seen in Mr. Hughes are poise, a strong, sane mind, sincerity and a willingness to sacrifice life, physical or political, to the good of the country. Nor is there any question as to the quality of nerve to meet the emergencies of the four years beginning March 4, 1917.

CITIZENS DO NOT STOP AT THE COAST LINE.

"When I say that I am an American citizen I ought to say the proudest thing that any man can say in this world. But you can't hate that pride of American citizenship is a cheap thing, if it is not worthy of protection in this wide world over. There is no man who could successfully present to an American community the platform that an American citizen's right stop at the coast line and that beyond that American life is to be the prey of any man who chooses to take it."—From a Speech of Mr. Hughes in the West.

POLITICAL JOTTINGS.

At that, however, from beginning to end this has been more of a "you kick me and I'll kiss you" administration.

Vance McCormick said the Progressives are stampeding to Wilson, and it's a ten to one bet he wishes he could believe it.

The Democrats are finding out that pork comes home to roost out their standing.

The men and women who prefer a man who does things to a man who writes notes about them will vote for Hughes. Government by correspondence takes too long to get anywhere, but government by deeds is always on the job.

Those who are concerned to know what Mr. Hughes would have done had he been in Mr. Wilson's place may rest assured he would not have done as Mr. Wilson has. And that is answer enough.

Mr. Hughes is not only going direct to the public, but the public is going direct to him. A genuine American fifty-fifty!

President Wilson's alarm clock is ringing at 5 o'clock these mornings. He can reach out of bed and turn it off the morning of March 5.

Postmaster General Burleson is too busy a politician to adopt for his department the McAdoo rule forbidding treasury department employees participating in politics. Mr. Burleson realizes that postmasters are entitled to spare exercise for the money.

There are no strings or mental reservations to the public pledges of administrative reform given by Charles E. Hughes. His record as governor of New York guarantees the fulfillment of every promise.

Democrats are now convinced that Charles Evans Hughes is a warm proposition.

It is gratifying, indeed, to find that Mr. Wilson still stands on the suffrage question where he stood at the beginning of his administration. He has changed on about everything else.—Philadelphia Evening Ledger.

Mr. Hughes says there should be firm dealing in Mexican affairs. May be so, but we have had enough of the firm of Wilson, Carranza & Co.

According to the week's latest work of fiction, the Democratic campaign book, the Vance campaign of the country received during the Wilson administration $3,000,000,000 more than they received under Taft. And all it cost them to keep something in the dinner pail was $6,000,000,000 more.

At the annual meeting of postmasters in Washington recently the first assistant postmaster general lauded the postal savings system. That must have been a bitter pill for Postmaster General Burleson, who sat on the same platform with his assistant. When the postal savings bill was passed Mr. Burleson, then a congressman from Texas, voted against it. Every vote cast against it was cast by a Democrat. Not one Democratic congressman voted for it. Yet President Wilson says the Republican party has not had a new idea in thirty years. Whose idea was it?

It was the instinct of a lawyer for Hughes to support his damning charges against Wilson by calling Wilson's own secretary of state as a witness to prove them.

It strikes one that instead of wildly hailing for the state of Maine Vance McCormick might do better work by taking his wrecking crew to the west to repair the Democratic bridges that are being dynamited by Justice Hughes.

The impression is growing at the White House that Mr. Hughes is deliberately unfriendly. Look out for notes.

If those Democratic notifiers put off their notifying much longer they may find Mr. Wilson in no mood to accept.

HOME OF AVERAGE MAN.

"But America is not simply a land for the man of special talent or of distinguished aptitude. This is the home of the average man, the ordinary man who is doing his best, whatever by talent or aptitude, and in our large industrial occupations, where thousands are gathered together in one service, we want a recognition of human brotherhood in providing for the welfare of those who make the wealth of this great country. We want workingmen to be safeguarded from every injury that can be prevented. We want the health of the workmen looked after; every means provided which conduces to the proper standpoint of living; every means provided for proper recreation; appropriate means for education, for vocational training. In short, the workingman who is on the job and expects to continue in that job ought to feel that he is doing something worth while for a community that appreciates it and gives him a fair chance to lead a happy and decent life."—From Mr. Hughes' Speech at Detroit.
